PHILLY-BOUND

Lady Lions advance to first Final Four

BY MATT HOBB
For the Mirror

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Who would have thought it would happen like this?

Who would have thought that Penn State would spend the final moments of the NCAA women's Midwest Regional championship game exchanging high fives? Pulling its best player in the final minute to sock up the applause of a delirious rooting section? Summoning its backups to complete the dismantling of a traditional women's basketball superpower?

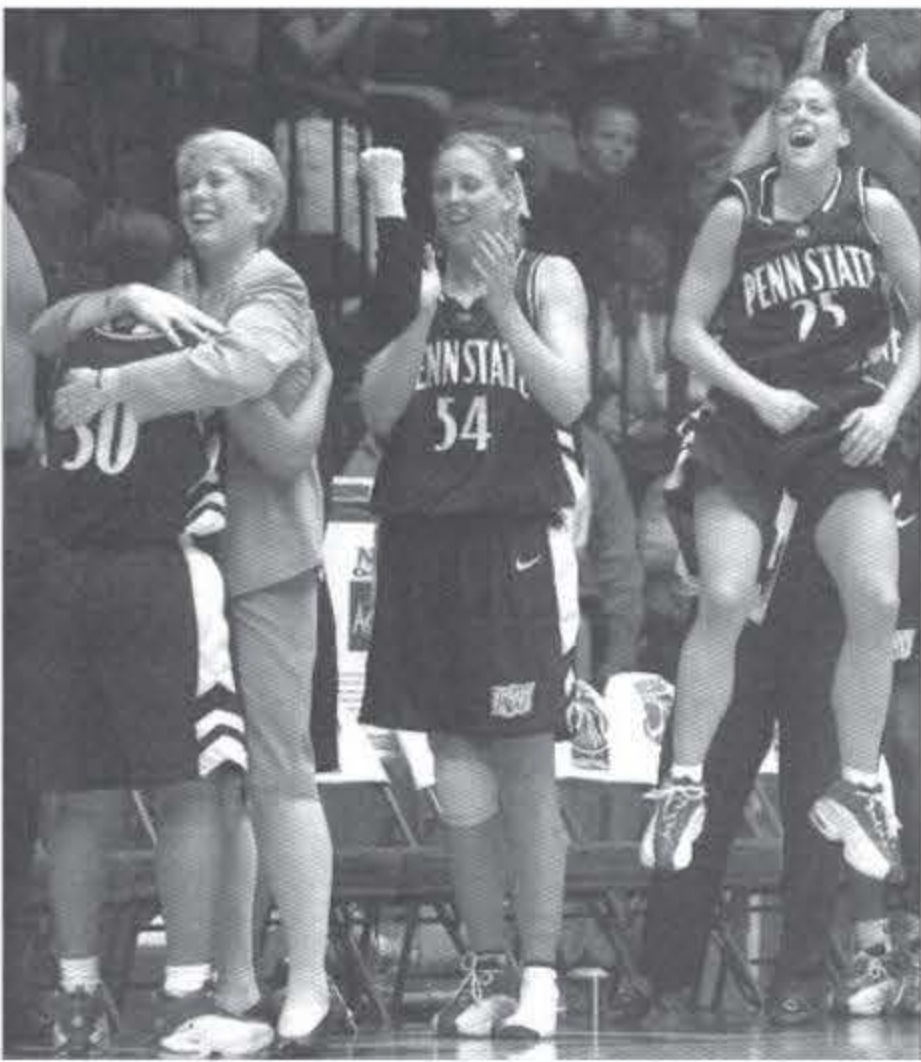

It defied logic, common sense, heck, maybe even physics.

"We knew we could beat them," Lady Lion center Andrea Garner said. "But we didn't think we could do this."

By this, Garner was referring to Monday night's 86-65 rout of the third-ranked, top-seeded Lady Techsters, a team that hadn't lost in 21 games, a team that wasn't supposed to lose until the Final Four, if at all.

But here it did. Badly. Penn State made an experienced, tournament-savvy team — a team that was drawing inspiration from the impending retirement of legendary coach Leon Barrow — look like just another mid-level Big Ten nuisance. As if storing for more than a decade of NCAA tournament heartbreak all at once, the Lady Lions tackled a stress-free ending to Coach Rene Portland's biggest win ever.

"I am very, very proud," Portland said. "There did a sneeze

THE LION SHRINE

Penn State's Lion Shrine was dedicated on Oct. 24, 1942, during Homecoming Weekend. The 13-ton block of Indiana limestone was molded into the most recognizable symbol of Penn State.

A gift of the Class of 1940, it rests in a natural setting of trees near Recreation Building. The Lion Shrine is the second-most photographed landmark in the state of Pennsylvania.

MITTANY LION LEGEND

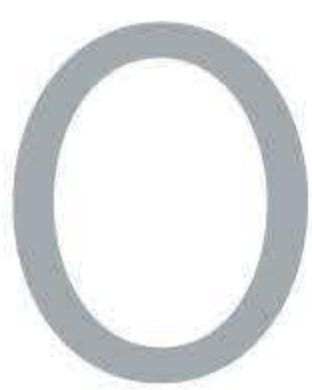

Chosen by the student body in 1906, Penn State’s original athletic symbol was the mountain lion which roamed central Pennsylvania. Since Penn State is located in the Nittany Valley at the foot of Mount Nittany, the lion was designated as a Nittany Lion.

In regional folklore, Nittany (or NitaNee) was a valorous Indian princess in whose honor the Great Spirit caused Mount Nittany to be formed.

107K STRONG

Penn State Football fans fill Beaver Stadium to the brim every fall, providing an electric and exciting atmosphere for the Nittany Lions each Saturday inside the nation’s second-largest venue. The University Park campus becomes the third-largest city in Pennsylvania on football game days.

THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE UNIVERSITY

Penn State's historic mission of teaching, research, and public service — launched under the most modest of circumstances more than 150 years ago — now reaches into virtually all parts of Pennsylvania. Consider, for example, that the University now has 24 campuses across the Commonwealth, putting a Penn State education within practical reach of nearly every Pennsylvanian. In fact, about 70 percent of Penn State's undergraduates are Pennsylvania residents.

Penn State is Pennsylvania's largest nongovernmental employer and has employees and expenditures in every one of its 67 counties. The University generates a total economic impact across the Commonwealth that surpasses $11.6 billion annually.

Part of that impact is derived from Penn State's research program, which brought more than $593 million in federal funds to Pennsylvania last year, and an additional $101 million from private industry. In addition, as part of its Invent Penn State initiative, the University has funded 21 innovation hubs, designed to bolster entrepreneurship and economic development in communities surrounding its campuses across Pennsylvania.

Penn State's outreach and online programs — ranging from 4H to Cooperative Extension, from summer camps to public broadcasting — provide educational and service programs to more than a million Pennsylvania households annually.

The University's presence throughout Pennsylvania today contrasts sharply with its humble beginnings. Chartered as a college of scientific agriculture, the institution was located in rural Centre County after James Irvin, a partner in the Centre Furnace iron works (remains of which can be seen today along East College Avenue), offered to donate 200 acres of farmland for a campus.

Founding President Evan Pugh wanted the fledgling institution to embody a new approach to higher education that blended classical studies with subjects that had practical value. He joined similar visionaries in other states in convincing Congress to pass the Morrill Land-Grant Act in 1862. The act gave individual states tracts of federal land to sell; the proceeds supported colleges that agreed to include engineering, science and the liberal arts as well as agriculture in their course of studies. In 1863, the Pennsylvania legislature designated Penn State the Commonwealth's sole land grant institution. The lawmakers in effect bestowed on the privately incorporated college a public character. In return for state support, the institution assumed obligations of teaching, research and service that are normally associated with publicly owned landgrant universities in other states.

By the 1890s Penn State was making its mark. It ranked among the nation's 10 largest undergraduate engineering schools, a distinction it still holds. It established one of the nation's first collegiate agricultural experiment stations, and Professor Whitman Jordan's pioneering research on using fertilizers for soil enrichment had global impact on crop yields.

Penn State in 1871 became one of the first land-grant schools in the Northeast to admit women, graduated its first international student in 1890, and its first African-American student in 1905.

In the early 1900s, President Edwin E. Sparks supported a number of efforts to "carry the college to the people," as he liked to say. Technical institutes were established in various locations statewide for engineering education, beginning with an evening school in Allentown in 1910. In 1912, Penn State helped create a system of county agents in agriculture and home economics. Today, the Penn State World Campus, with its "anywhere, anytime" learning through the Internet, builds on that outreach tradition.

But undergraduate education remained foremost. Enrollment surpassed 5,000 students by 1936, including those attending several undergraduate centers that were created for students who, in the depths of the Great Depression, could not afford to leave their hometowns to get a college education. The centers offered the first year of baccalaureate studies and were the predecessors of today's statewide system of campuses. Thanks to this innovative approach to higher education, Penn State in the 1930s became Pennsylvania's largest single source of baccalaureate degrees, a distinction it holds to this day.

Following World War II, Penn State underwent unprecedented expansion, first to meet the needs of returning military veterans and later to accommodate the Baby Boom generation. Total enrollment at all Penn State campuses climbed to 40,000 by 1970.

The University also emerged on the national scene as a research powerhouse in fields as diverse as dairy science, acoustics, psychology and diesel engineering. The expansion of research went hand in hand with a steady increase in the number of graduate students. The University awarded its first graduate degree — a master's degree in scientific agriculture — in 1862, and the Graduate School was established in 1922. But overall graduate enrollment remained modest until the 1950s, then swelled steadily. The Graduate School has awarded to date approximately 130,000 master's, doctoral and other advanced degrees.

The University Park campus is Penn State's administrative and research hub. In addition, there are 19 primarily undergraduate campuses; Penn State Health Milton S. Hershey Medical Center and the College of Medicine; the Pennsylvania College of Technology; Penn State Law: Dickinson Law; the Penn State Great Valley School of Graduate Professional Studies; and the Penn State World Campus.

To date, Penn State has awarded more than 890,000 degrees, hallmarks of an educational experience second to none in quality. In addition, Penn State alumni — including 364,000 in Pennsylvania alone — have job- and social-networking opportunities that no other college or university in the Commonwealth can surpass.

WORLDS LARGEST ALUMNI NETWORK

From a quiet gathering of alumni in a vacant Old Main classroom in 1870 to a powerful network of more than 176,000 members worldwide, the Penn State Alumni Association has been keeping alumni connected to the University and to each other for more than a century. It is the largest dues-paying organization of its kind in the world. Alumni Association members live in every county in Pennsylvania, every state in the United States, and in numerous countries around the world.

The mission of the Alumni Association is to connect alumni to the University and to each other, to provide valued services to members, and to support the University's mission of teaching, research, and service.

Along with degree holding members, one out of every eight current Penn State students belongs to the Blue & White Society, the Alumni Association's student membership contingent.

Today, that mission is brought to life through events and programs such as; City Lights, pep rallies, Huddle with the Faculty, Alumni Reunion Weekend, Homecoming events, and so much more.

The mission is also embodied in the Alumni Association's commitment to recognize outstanding alumni and alumni volunteers through its award programs.

VICE PRESIDENT FOR INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS SANDY BARBOUR

Recognized as one of the nation's premier Athletic Directors, Sandy Barbour enters her eighth year as the dynamic leader of the Penn State Intercollegiate Athletics program. With student success and comprehensive excellence as a steadfast focus, Barbour has helped the Nittany Lions continue to ascend and thrive as one of the nation's most successful athletic departments.

Barbour began her passionate and effective leadership of the Penn State Intercollegiate Athletics program in August 2014. President Eric J. Barron named Barbour the Nittany Lions' ninth Director of Athletics after she served for 10 years as Director of Athletics at the University of California, Berkeley.

In February 2019, Barbour received a contract extension through August 31, 2023 and assumed the title of Penn State Vice President for Intercollegiate Athletics.

"Sandy has consistently promoted excellence in intercollegiate athletics — in academics and athletic competitions, and she is widely hailed among the best athletic directors in the nation," Barron said at the time of her contract extension. "She is a powerful advocate for those who wear the blue and white, and her leadership has help advance our shared vision of what intercollegiate athletics can be. I'm proud of our student-athletes, the coaches and staff, and I'm very pleased that Sandy will be able to lead them to even greater success."

Leader of Premier Athletic Department in Academic, Athletic and Community Engagement

One of the nation's most highly-respected Athletic Directors, Barbour has more than 40 years of varied experiences as a collegiate administrator and coach, with a demonstrated record of championships, academic success, innovation, facility modernization and revenue growth.

Barbour directs one of the nation's most comprehensive and successful athletic programs that boasts an NCAA Graduation Success Rate of 92 percent, while capturing 79 national championships and 116 Big Ten titles all-time. She oversees a broad-based program that supports approximately 800 students in 31 sports (16 men's/15 women's) and an Intercollegiate Athletics staff of more than 300 whose daily mission is preparing students for a lifetime of impact. Penn State's 31 programs are tied for fourth-largest among all 130 FBS institutions.

During Barbour's initial seven years of leadership in Happy Valley, Penn State student-athletes have consistently raised the bar and broken or tied school academic records, including the number of Academic All-Big Ten and Big Ten Distinguished Scholar recipients. A total of 140 Nittany Lion students graduated during the 2020 fall and 2021 spring semesters. A combined total of 1,064 student-athletes have earned their degrees during Barbour's tenure.

The 2020-21 athletic year was unlike any others in the history of collegiate athletics. Barbour served as the co-chair of the medical subcommittee on the Big Ten's Return to Competition Task Force, which developed stringent medical protocols to ensure the health and safety of student-athletes while returning to sport. Despite the unprecedented circumstances, the Nittany Lion women's soccer team claimed the Big Ten regular-season championship, wrestling earned a share of the Big Ten dual meet title, women's hockey won its first CHA regular-season crown and men's volleyball won the EIVA regular-season and tournament championships. Under Barbour's direction, Penn State has won six NCAA Championships and 36 conference crowns.

In addition to the competitive and academic achievements, Barbour has taken pride in the diversity and inclusion work done by the department and its student-athletes. In 2020-21, Barbour set action steps for intercollegiate athletics to continue the work of fostering and advancing a diverse, inclusive and respectful environment where staff, coaches, student-athletes and all other members of the Penn State family feel supported. Penn State United was introduced to construct a culture of respect, appreciation and empathy for all differences, while recognizing we are rooted in diversity, shared experience and hope. Under Barbour, Penn State Athletics' Advisory Council for Diversity, Equity and Inclusion (ACDEI) has expanded its work, providing diversity and inclusion resources to staff and student-athletes, and will continue Barbour's action steps by listening, taking action and supporting growth and change.

Nittany Lions Students are the "Why" for Penn State Athletics

Soon after her arrival at Penn State, Barbour began to implement her vision for Penn State Intercollegiate Athletics and creating conditions for success for the department's purpose and "Why" — the more than 800 Nittany Lion student-athletes.

Six months into her tenure, Barbour announced a reorganization of ICA that introduced a more vertical structure to encourage communication and collaboration across functional units and sports. Four administrative divisions were formed: student-athlete performance, health and welfare; external relations and operations, administration and business and finance.

In 2015, Penn State Athletics launched a wide-ranging strategic planning process and conducted a series of town hall meetings. Students, faculty and staff, alumni, donors and the public were presented with the initial findings and were presented with an opportunity to provide feedback. The project helped determine strategies and priorities for the formalized strategic plan.

Barbour also oversees a comprehensive facilities master plan, which was announced in March 2017. Penn State partnered with Populous, one of the world's leading architecture and sport event planning firms, to collaborate on developing a comprehensive facilities master plan to provide a 20-year road map for addressing current and long-term needs for all of the Nittany Lions' facilities (competition, practice, performance enhancement and training).

Less than two months after the facilities master plan was unveiled in 2017, Penn State announced a $3.55 million gift from men's lacrosse letterman and graduate Ken Panzer and his business partner, Jordan Kaplan, to launch construction on a new lacrosse facility. The project transformed the Penn State Lacrosse Field into one of the top lacrosse venues in the nation when Panzer Stadium opened to rave reviews in 2019.

Since the first Lasch Football Building renovation project was announced in January 2015, Barbour has helped raise more than $32 million for the Football Excellence Fund to finance several phased upgrades of the football facilities, including a $48.5 million phase, currently under construction and slated for completion in time for the 2022 season.

During Barbour's tenure, Penn State Athletics has had four of the top seven fundraising years in department history.

Barbour initiated the additional utilization of ICA's physical assets, resulting in the first NHL pre-season games in Pegula Ice Arena and the initial concert in Beaver Stadium – the Happy Valley Jam, featuring Blake Shelton, in July 2017. Pegula Ice Arena has also hosted three NHL preseason contests, all featuring the Buffalo Sabres, since 2016.

Academic Excellence Among Record-Setting Achievements; 92 Percent NCAA Graduation Rate

Penn State student-athletes have consistently delivered academic excellence and record performances during Barbour's tenure.

In November 2020, the NCAA released its annual national graduation rates study, which disclosed that Penn State student-athletes earned a school-record Graduation Success Rate (GSR) of 92 percent, marking the fourth consecutive year of a GSR of 90 percent or higher. The GSR was the fourth-straight record-breaking or record-tying effort in department history. Nine Nittany Lion teams earned a perfect 100 percent Graduation Success Rate.

Nittany Lion students posted a 3.51 grade-point average, and all 31 teams had a 3.30 GPA or higher following the 2020 fall semester with the University's COVID-19 alternative grading system in place. In the fall semester, 742 student-athletes posted at least at 3.0 GPA, and 327 were named to the Dean's List for earning at least a 3.5 GPA (minimum 12 credits).

For the fourth consecutive year, more than 350 Penn State student-athletes earned Academic All-Big Ten honors with 446 Nittany Lions posting a 3.0 GPA or higher in 2020-21.

Starting with the 2014 fall semester, Barbour's first as Penn State AD, Penn State student-athletes have achieved the 10 highest semesters all-time for the number of students earning at least a 3.0 GPA (please note: record performances do not include spring 2020, fall 2020 and spring 2021 due to COVID-19 alternative grading system).

Six NCAA Team Championships and 36 Conference Titles

In the seven years Barbour has led Penn State Athletics, the Nittany Lions have captured six NCAA Championships in women's soccer, women's volleyball and wrestling and won 28 Big Ten titles, seven EIVA crowns and one CHA championship for a total of 36 conference championships.

In 2020-21, the Nittany Lion women's soccer team claimed its 20th Big Ten regular-season title, marking the first regular-season crown for the women's soccer team since 2018 and 11th under head coach Erica Dambach. The wrestling team won a share of the Big Ten dual meet championship for the seventh time with a 6-0 record. The women's hockey team claimed their first CHA regular-season title with a 16-2-2 conference record. The women's hockey squad becomes the 27th Penn State team to win a conference championship.

The men's volleyball squad claimed its 35th EIVA regular-season title and 32nd EIVA Tournament championships with a 22-4 record. The Nittany Lions made their first NCAA Tournament appearance since 2017 and earned their first win since the 2015 season with a first-round win over Belmont Abbey.

A total of 24 Penn student-athletes have won NCAA individual national championships since 2016-17, including a combined total of 18 the past three years from six different sports. Fencer Ryan Griffiths earned the NCAA epee individual title in 2020-21, while Roman Bravo-Young (133 lbs), Nick Lee (141 lbs), Carter Starocci (174 lbs) and Aaron Brooks (184 lbs) guided the Nittany Lions wrestlers to a perfect 4-for-4 effort on NCAA Championship night.

In 2020-21, six Nittany Lions claimed Big Ten individual titles to give Penn State 42 individual champions in the past four years. Swimmer Michael Daly won the 400 IM, while Aaron Brooks captured his second Big Ten crown with a victory at 184 pounds and Roman Bravo-Young claimed the 133 lb. Big Ten title. At the Big Ten Indoor Track & Field Championships, Dom Perretta won his second 800-meter title, while Sincere Rhea on the men's 60-meter hurdles and Victoria Vanriele won the women's 800 meters for a Penn State sweep in the event.

Penn State Athletics has finished in the top 10 twice and top 15 three times in the final Learfield IMG College Directors' Cup standings under Barbour's direction. Penn State also was ranked No. 8 among the nation's 65 Power Five institutions in 2017-18, according to Yahoo! Sports.

Nittany Lion Student-Athletes Engaged in Student Athlete Welfare and Development Programming and Community Service with 40-Plus Organizations

In addition to their academic and athletic achievements, student-athletes have helped support Penn State's comprehensive excellence by investing in themselves through ICA's Student-Athlete Welfare and Development programming with the Athletic Director's Leadership Institute (ADLI), the Nittany's, SAAB, financial literacy and career networking programs. In addition, Penn State student-athletes spend thousands of hours each year involved in community engagement. Nittany Lion students annually participate in a range of activities from clinics and visits and team up with more than 40 organizations on projects and events. Among the organizations Penn State student-athletes are involved are THON, Special Olympics, Uplifting Athletes, Pennsylvania Pink Zone, Coaches vs. Cancer, United Way Day of Caring and LifeLink.

BIG TEN CONFERENCE

BIG LIFE. BIG STAGE. BIG TEN.

Since its inception in 1896, the pursuit and attainment of academic excellence has been a priority for every Big Ten member institution. But maintaining the conference’s standard of competing at the highest level in athletics also endures as an important component of the Big Ten experience. Striking that balance between academics and athletics is integral to the Big Ten’s identity. Recognized as one of intercollegiate sports’ most successful undertakings, the Big Ten strives for success from its students not only on the field and in the classroom, but around the world as well.

PREMIER ACADEMIC INSTITUTIONS

The Big Ten Academic Alliance is an academic consortium of all 14 Big Ten universities, which is widely considered to be the model for effective and voluntary collaboration among top research universities.

Every Big Ten Academic Alliance institution ranks among the top 70 universities in the nation according to the 2019 Academic Ranking of World Universities, including six in the top 30.

The Big Ten leads all conferences with more than 1,800 Academic All-Americans, including 27 honorees during the 2019-20 academic year.

Big Ten Academic Alliance schools annually conduct $10 billion in funded research, $5 billion more than any other conference.

A HISTORY OF ATHLETIC SUCCESS

Big Ten schools have won at least five national championships in 23 of the last 26 years, averaging nearly seven per year over that span.

Since the 2008-09 academic year, current Big Ten institutions have claimed 76 team national championships in 21 different sports.

LEADERS IN INNOVATION

- Took part in the nation’s first bowl game, winning the 1902 Rose Bowl Game, and signed an exclusive contract with the Tournament of Roses in 1946, making it the first bowl with permanent conference affiliations.
- Awarded the first Big Ten Medal of Honor in 1915, honoring outstanding seniors who demonstrated excellence in academics and athletics.
- Formed the Big Ten Advisory Commission in 1972, enlisting former students that competed in conference athletics to serve as liaisons to the NCAA’s Diversity and Inclusion Department, the Big Ten Student-Athlete Advisory Commission and other organizations.
- Became the first conference to voluntarily adopt male and female participation goals after launching its Gender Equity Action Plan in 1992.
- Implemented the first collegiate football system of instant replay in 2004, which the NCAA approved for use among all conferences in 2006.
- Launched the Big Ten Network (BTN) in 2007, the first national conference-owned television network.
- Began partnering with the Ivy League to study the effects of head injuries in sports in 2012.
- Accepted Johns Hopkins University as the conference’s first sport affiliate members in men’s and women’s lacrosse in 2013 and 2015, respectively, and added Notre Dame as a sport affiliate member in men’s ice hockey in 2017.

PASSIONATE FOLLOWING

The Big Ten leads all conferences with 5.7 million alumni and nearly 580,000 students.

Each year more than 11 million patrons attend Big Ten home contests, as the conference has led the nation in attendance for men’s basketball, ice hockey, volleyball and wrestling.

EXTENSIVE TELEVISION EXPOSURE

Through the Big Ten’s current media agreements with BTN, ABC/ESPN, CBS and FOX, more than 2,000 Big Ten events are produced and distributed nationally and globally on an annual basis.

BTN is in almost 60 million homes across the United States and Canada, and is also available internationally via the Fox Sports App, delivering live and on-demand programming to computers, smartphones and tablets. BTN Plus streams hundreds of additional events each season.

BROAD-BASED PROGRAMMING

The Big Ten will administer over $200 million in direct financial support to more than 9,800 students competing in intercollegiate athletics for more than 11,000 participation opportunities on 350 teams in 42 different sports.

The Big Ten sponsors 28 official conference sports, 14 for men and 14 for women, including the addition of men’s ice hockey and men’s and women’s lacrosse in this decade.

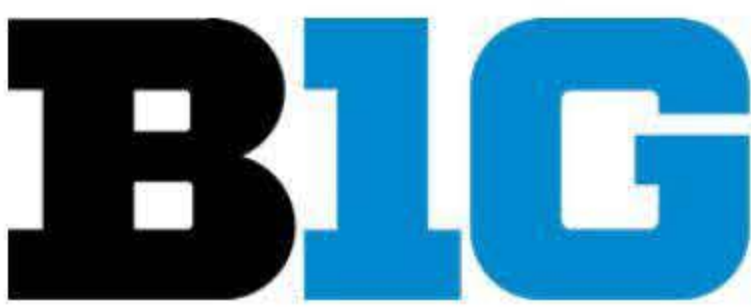

The Big Ten leads the nation in total students competing in intercollegiate athletics and participation opportunities, and sponsors more official sports than all conferences except the Ivy League.

Almost 1,400 Big Ten competitors have participated in the Olympics, winning more than 600 medals, including nearly 300 gold. In the 2016 and 2018 Olympic Games, more than 200 representatives from Big Ten institutions including current or former students and coaches were members of Olympic teams. Big Ten Olympians collected more than 50 medals in the most recent games in Rio and PyeongChang.

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

For more than 30 years, through the Big Ten’s SCORE (Success Comes Out of Reading Everyday) program, the conference has partnered with Chicago elementary schools to improve reading performance.

Surrounding the Big Ten Football Championship Game and Basketball Tournaments, the conference has held numerous community initiatives, partnered with the College Football Playoff Foundation and other events such as the Big Ten Career Expo, SaturDAY of Service and Youth Football Clinics. In addition, the Big Ten has hosted a downtown 5K, collaborated with a local breast cancer awareness group and provided unique event experiences for military veterans.
